Competition Conditions

About these Comp Conditions

From time to time, we run promotional competitions for our customers and others to participate in.

Key competition details are in the Competition Details

Competition Details for each competition are on our Website

whogivesacrap.org/pages/promotional-terms-and-conditions and form part of these Competition Conditions.

- Capitalised words in these Competition Conditions are defined in the Competition Details.

For example, Competitions last for the Competition Period set out in the Competition Details and Prizes are listed in the Prize Details section of the Competition Details for each Comp.

Valid entries

To have a Valid Entry, you must submit an entry:

- in line with the Entry Method,
- during the Competition Period,
- that meets the Entry Restrictions, and
- complies with any Eligibility Criteria...

...as outlined in the Competition Details.

Our employees (and their immediate families) are ineligible to enter a Competition (because they are so awesome, it would be an unfair advantage).

Disqualified entries

We may disqualify entries from or prevent future participation in competitions by anyone who:

- tampers with the entry process,
- breaches these conditions, or
- is, in our reasonable opinion, engaging inappropriately in a competition.

Entering Competitions

Each time you enter a Competition:

- You agree to these Competition Conditions, and
- You accept responsibility for entering the Competition and taking the Prize if you're a winner, and
- You agree that by submitting an entry, we can use your personal information to promote the Competition (including the outcome) and our business (as well as the Suppliers' business if applicable), and publicly announce you as a winner.

See our Privacy Policy for how we manage your personal information in your Region.

Announcing winners

We announce and publicise winners in line with the Winner Notification information in the Competition Details.

Competition issues and changes

As long as we act reasonably:

- we're not liable for any loss or delay in transit of, or damage to Prizes, and
- if a Prize is not available, we may substitute another item of equal value, and
- we reserve the right to modify, suspend, terminate or cancel the Competition as appropriate.

The winner will be given a Mastercard gift card to purchase any bathroom products of their choice. If the winner purchases anything over the value of the Mastercard gift card, they will be responsible for the difference in price. The winner is responsible for any costs associated with product installation, delivery and services, and Who Gives A Crap is not responsible for any element of the installation, delivery or continued use of any products purchased.

You acknowledge that the Prize will be provided by us. As long as we act reasonably, we're not responsible for delays in getting the Prize to you. Nothing in these Competition Conditions excludes, restricts or modifies any rights you may have under the Australian Consumer Law. If something's not quite right with the Prize, get in touch with us and we'll sort it out.

Prizes

Prizes are not transferable, changeable or exchangeable and cannot be redeemed for cash.

Given the prize is a Mastercard gift card, the winner also agrees to any associated terms and conditions provided by Mastercard.

Unclaimed Prizes

- We will run an Unclaimed Prize Selection if:

A selected winner hasn't contacted us to claim their Prize by the Prize Claim Date or,

After making all reasonable attempts, we can't contact a selected winner.

- We'll follow the Unclaimed Prize Selection process in the Competition Details to distribute the relevant Prizes, subject to any requirements of a relevant authority.
- We notify winners in line with the details in the Unclaimed Prize Selections process in the Competition Details.

So... do you feel lucky?
